'Sick is yellow, sick is thick, sick can come up awful quick.' So begins this short volume by Susan Stranks (of television's Maggie fame), and continues in similar vein with treatments of mumps, chicken pox, measles, whooping cough, gastric flu and warts, to name but several. 'Don't get nits, you'll go out of your wits', is one of the choicer pieces of 'medical' advice offered. It's such a gruesome book that kids will doubtless adore it and it will sell by the thousand! 'Gastric flu, just isn't funny, it's much, much, much, much, much, too runny.'
